It’s all about you. From the course structure, to the support system, to the online learning environment — everything has been perfected to help you develop into a well-rounded student capable of making a positive impact in your community.

ONLINE LEARNING

Online programs are growing ever more prevalent in higher education. Good programs provide flexibility and convenience. Great ones, like the Marylhurst Accelerated Online Programs, provide exceptional technology, small class size, faculty interaction and a platform for sharing your learning experience with students throughout the country.

The online structure also drastically enhances and accelerates your education. Being able to immediately apply the principles you learn in class to your current work experience is invaluable.

The curriculum itself has been developed around a time-tested learning model: you take only one class each five-week period, allowing you to focus and create a solid foundation before moving on to a new topic.

SUPPORT

Your Enrollment Advisors are available to answer questions and guide you through the admissions process. They make it easy to complete your application.

Your Program Managers are with you all the way through graduation, helping you register for classes, develop your schedule and address any concerns. They are your dedicated support resource, and ensure that you are prepared for online learning.

Your Professors are constantly updating curriculum to stay on the leading edge. They are committed to helping you develop into a leader.

Your Cohort will help you view course topics in the context of real-world situations. They help you stay focused and engaged.

Your Online Learning Environment—Moodle—is one of the most advanced systems available for distance education. You have access to course material, discussion boards, lectures, assignments and quizzes. It keeps you informed and on task.

Gricel Martinez Ocasio

“Online learning is learning elevated to a higher level. It takes a dedicated, serious, responsible, tenacious and disciplined person to excel in this environment. The assignments are challenging and demonstrate a student’s writing abilities and thought processes in a way that traditional learning does not. I have had both types of learning and definitely prefer online education, especially after having experienced Marylhurst University’s accelerated online programs. The enrollment process could not have been easier. It reminded me of the process I went through when I was in high school. That is how easy it was.” — 2010 Graduate

Lia Vanderzwart

“I definitely enjoyed my education at Marylhurst University. I have gone to other universities and sat in classrooms and I can say I never received an education I enjoyed as much as I do with the Accelerated Online Program. It corresponds with my lifestyle perfectly. As a working adult, my education shines through in my work and I have learned much more than I ever anticipated.” — 2009 Graduate
